Tofu Banh Mi Sandwich CA 12

Banh Mi or Banh Mi is the Vietnamese word for bread. In Vietnamese cuisine, it also refers to a type of burger which is often called longbuns and filled with various savory ingredients on a sandwich. Our Steak Banh Mi Contains Simply-Cooked Steak Strips with Mayo, Pickled Vegetables, Cucumbers, Jalapeno and Cheddar on an authentic Banh Mi Sandwich Roll. Served with French Fries.

Gyro Wrap CA 12
The gyro is widely thought to have originated in Greece. It is a sandwich made using Lamb, Lettuce, Tomato, Onion and a cucumber yogurt sauce on Pita Bread. Served with French Fries.

How to pronounce gyro? The correct pronunciation of Gyro is "YEE - RO". It takes a bit of practice for one. Broke to pronounce this Greek wrap but you can get it with a big bit of work. There is no "Gee" sound in the Greek language it is "YEE".

General Tso's Chicken CA 12
Some of our chicken is a sweet and spicy deep-fried chicken dish. The dish is named after Tso Tung-tung, a Qing dynasty statesman and military leader, although there is no recorded connection to him as is the dish known in Hong Kong. Don't know previous.

Po'Boy (Oyster or Shrimp) CA 12
Lightly breaded oysters or shrimp, fried and placed on our Artisan Roll, topped with Remoulade Sauce, Pickles and Served with French Fries. The name for New Orleans' most famous sandwich, the po-boy, harkens back to its humble, scrappy origins. That heritage must have given the po-boy some special reverence because, in New Orleans' vibrant French Quarter, po-boys were one of the most popular of local culinary traditions to make it back to the restaurant today.
